

Hello, I'm Craig Anderson

By day, I'm a contracting Python web developer specialising in Django. Check out my CV (or download the PDF version if you prefer). If you'd like to hire me, please send me an email. I'll be next available in June 2017.

By night, you might find me exploring my adopted home city of London, playing around in the kitchen, seeing live music, or hunting out an obscure craft beer. When back in my home town of Melbourne, I might occasionally play bass guitar in Look Who's Toxic.

I also run a little Unix Timestamp conversion site.

There are plenty of other things I should be doing, but most of the time I'm dreaming about what I'll do when I grow up while watching bad Star Trek spin-offs.
