

Hello, I'm Craig Anderson

By day, I'm a self-employed web developer specialising in Python and Django (<https://www.uhf62.co.uk>). Check out my CV (</cv>) (or download the PDF version (</cv.pdf>) if you prefer).

By night, you might find me exploring my adopted home city of London, playing around in the kitchen (<https://www.pinterest.co.uk/craiga/things-i-cooked-that-were-great/>), seeing live music (<https://www.songkick.com/users/craigeanderson>), or hunting out an obscure craft beer (<https://untappd.com/user/craiganderson>). When back in my home town of Melbourne (</melbourne>), I might occasionally play bass guitar in Look Who's Toxic (<http://lookwhostoxic.com>).

I also run a little Unix Timestamp conversion site (<https://www.unixtimesta.mp>).

There are plenty of other things I should be doing, but most of the time I'm dreaming about what I'll do when I grow up while watching bad Star Trek spin-offs.